

HEADLINES

Independent Education Union of Australia NSW/ACT Branch

October 2018

Hello,

The IEU offers a great forum for principals and school leadership teams to get together and discuss issues that matter to them and advocate for real change.

Feel free to share this enews with your colleagues.

John Quessy

Secretary, Independent Education Union of Australia NSW/ACT Branch

Read the latest from your Union

Let's talk

Codes of conduct for parents and carers, the implementation of Learning Progressions in some dioceses, students with disabilities and the Nationally Consistent Collection of Data...

Workload and wellbeing

As in previous years, the IEU has supported the Teachers Health Fund principals' wellbeing survey and has encouraged the participation of principal members.

Take a look

Leaders eat last

In his book, Leaders Eat Last, Simon Sinek discussed the need for people to feel safe and valued in the organisation they work in, Holy Family Primary School Merewether Beach Principal and IEU Principals Sub Branch member Sidonie Coffey writes.

Take a look

Read more

Curriculum review

The curriculum review terms of reference extend from the purpose of school, through to what is it we want students to know, understand and do, to how to organise the structure and design of the curriculum.

Read more

Welcome new principal Judi Nealy

I am delighted to be the eighth Head of School at The Illawarra Grammar School (TIGS) and to lead a school that is committed to empowering young people to confidently take their place in the world. As an emerging female leader, I have been supported by Council and Senior Executive for the entirety of my leadership experience and been able to access fantastic PD to build my personal capacity. I'm looking forward to supporting other emerging leaders at TIGS and in our profession to take their place in leading learning.

